Item 2 - Material Changes

This Brochure is prepared in the revised format required beginning in 2011. Registered Investment Advisers are required to use this format to inform clients of the nature of advisory services provided, types of clients served, fees charged, potential conflicts of interest and other information. The Brochure requirements include providing a Summary of Material Changes (the "Summary") reflecting any material changes to our policies, practices, or conflicts of interest made since our last required "annual update" filing. In the event of any material changes, such Summary is provided to all clients within 120 days of our fiscal year-end. Our last annual update was filed on March 19, 2018. Of course the complete Brochure is available to clients at any time upon request.

General Information

Sherrill & Hutchins Financial Advisory, Inc. (“SHFA”) was formed in 1984 and provides financial planning, investment management, and investment consulting services to its clients.

Jessica Sherrill, Theodore Noble, William F. Hutchins, III and Mark Sheerin are the principal owners of SHFA. Please see Brochure Supplements, Exhibit A, for more information on these owners and other individuals who formulate investment advice and have direct contact with clients, or have discretionary authority over client accounts.

As of December 31, 2018, SHFA managed $384,713,918 on a discretionary basis, and $7,520,567 on a non-discretionary basis.

SERVICES OFFERED

At the outset of each client relationship, SHFA spends time with the client, asking questions, discussing the client’s investment experience and financial circumstances, and broadly identifying major goals of the client.

Clients may elect to retain SHFA to prepare a full financial plan. This written report is presented to the client for consideration. In many cases, clients subsequently retain SHFA to manage the investment portfolio on an ongoing basis.

For those financial planning clients making this election, and for other clients who do not need financial planning but retain SHFA for investment management services, based on all the information initially gathered, SHFA generally develops with each client:

- a financial outline for the client based on the client’s financial circumstances and goals, and the client’s risk tolerance level (the “Financial Profile” or “Profile”);
- the client’s investment objectives and guidelines (the “Investment Plan” or “Plan”).

The Financial Profile is a reflection of the client’s current financial picture and a look to the future goals of the client. The Investment Plan outlines the types of investments SHFA will make on behalf of the client to meet those goals. The Profile and the Plan are discussed regularly with each client, but are not necessarily written documents.

Where SHFA provides only limited financial planning or investment consulting services, SHFA will work with the client to prepare an appropriate summary of the specific project(s) to the extent necessary or advisable under the circumstances.

SHFA offers a variety of service programs to accommodate our clients at different stages of life. These options vary based on client need, the extent of engagement, and how SHFA is compensated.

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT SERVICES OFFERED

Wealth Management

This service offers a combination of investment management with a broad range of financial planning services, subject to a minimum of investable assets of $750,000.

Mid-Career Program

A program designed to serve the needs of early- to mid-career individuals with investable assets of $100,000 - $750,000, this service provides the benefit of an investment program for those focused on accumulation, with a more limited financial planning service offering.

DETAILS FOR INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT SERVICES

At the beginning of a client relationship, SHFA meets with the client, gathers information, and performs research and analysis as necessary to develop the client's Investment Plan. The Investment Plan will be updated from time to time when requested by the client, or when determined to be necessary or advisable by SHFA based on updates to the client's financial or other circumstances.

To implement the client's Investment Plan, SHFA will manage the client's investment portfolio on a discretionary basis. As a discretionary investment adviser, SHFA will have the authority to supervise and direct the portfolio without prior consultation with the client.

Wealth Management

SHFA's Wealth Management Service is appropriate for clients with investable assets in excess of $750,000. It is inclusive of SHFA's wide range of financial planning services (see below). SHFA offers to meet with the Wealth Management client at least annually, or more often if there are changes in the client's financial circumstances. SHFA staff is available for consultation by telephone and email as needed.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, Wealth Management clients may request certain written restrictions on SHFA in the management of their investment portfolios, such as prohibiting the inclusion of certain types of investments in an investment portfolio or prohibiting the sale of certain investments held in the account at the commencement of the relationship. Each client should note, however, that restrictions imposed by a client may adversely affect the composition and performance of the client's investment portfolio. Each client should also note that his or her investment portfolio is treated individually by giving consideration to each purchase or sale for the client's account. For these and other reasons, performance of client investment portfolios within the same investment objectives, goals and/or risk tolerance may differ and clients should not expect that the composition or performance of their investment portfolios would necessarily be consistent with similar clients of SHFA.

Mid-Career Services

For clients whose assets are accumulating but do not yet meet the minimum portfolio size requirement for SHFA's traditional Wealth Management Services, we offer Mid-Career Investment Services. The ideal candidate for this service has $100,000 to $750,000 to invest, and is accumulating additional savings toward their goals. Most clients utilizing this service offering have fifteen or more years to retirement, allowing ample time for their portfolio to achieve the long-term growth necessary for meeting their retirement goals.

Mid-Career Services entail paperless communications, web- and email-based client support and planning resources. SHFA will provide a Financial Goals Plan. Any requested additional planning services beyond the scope of our Financial Goals Plan will be provided on an hourly basis as described below.

PLANNING AND CONSULTING SERVICES OFFERED

Financial Planning

One of the services offered by SHFA is financial planning, described below. This service may be provided as a stand-alone service, or may be coupled with ongoing investment management.

Financial planning may include advice that addresses one or more areas of a client's financial situation including, but not limited to, estate planning, risk management, budgeting and cash flow controls, retirement planning, education funding, and investment portfolio design. Depending on a client's particular situation, financial planning may include some or all of the following:

- Gathering factual information concerning the client's personal and financial situation;
- Assisting the client in establishing financial goals and objectives;
- Analyzing the client's present situation and anticipated future activities in light of the client's financial goals and objectives;
- Identifying problems foreseen in the accomplishment of these financial goals and objectives and offering alternative solutions to the problems;
- Making recommendations to help achieve retirement plan goals and objectives;
- Designing an investment strategy to help meet the goals and objectives of the client;
- Providing estate planning review and recommendations;
- Assessing risk and reviewing basic health, life and disability insurance needs; or
- Reviewing goals and objectives and measuring progress toward these goals.

Once financial planning advice is given, the client may choose to have SHFA implement the client's financial plan and manage the investment portfolio on an ongoing basis. However, the client is under no obligation to act upon any of the recommendations made by SHFA under a Financial Planning engagement and/or engage the services of any recommended professional.

General Investment Consulting

In addition to the foregoing services, SHFA may provide investment consulting services to clients. These services may include analysis of the client's existing investments, development of a tailored investment strategy, as well as other matters specific to the client as and when requested by the client and agreed to by SHFA. The scope for consulting services will be negotiated with each client at the time of engagement for the applicable project.

Retirement Plan Advisory Services

Establishing a sound fiduciary governance process is vital to good decision-making and to ensuring that prudent procedural steps are followed in making investment decisions. SHFA will provide Retirement Plan consulting services to Plans and Plan Fiduciaries as described below. The particular services provided will be detailed in the consulting agreement. The appropriate Plan Fiduciary(ies) designated in the Plan documents (e.g., the Plan sponsor or named fiduciary) will (i) make the decision to retain our firm; (ii) agree to the scope of the services that we will provide; and (iii) make the ultimate decision as to accepting any of the recommendations that we may provide. The Plan Fiduciaries are free to seek independent advice about the appropriateness of any recommended services for the Plan. Retirement Plan consulting services may be offered individually or as part of a comprehensive suite of services.

The Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (“ERISA”) sets forth rules under which Plan Fiduciaries may retain investment advisers for various types of services with respect to Plan assets. For certain services, SHFA will be considered a fiduciary under ERISA. For example, SHFA will act as an ERISA § 3(21) fiduciary when providing non-discretionary investment advice to the Plan Fiduciaries by recommending a suite of investments as choices among which Plan Participants may select. Also, to the extent that the Plan Fiduciaries retain SHFA to act as an investment manager within the meaning of ERISA § 3(38), SHFA will provide discretionary investment management services to the Plan.

With respect to any account for which SHFA meets the definition of a fiduciary under Department of Labor rules, SHFA acknowledges that both SHFA and its Related Persons are acting as fiduciaries. Additional disclosure may be found elsewhere in this Brochure or in the written agreement between SHFA and Client.

Fiduciary Management Services

- Discretionary Management Services
When retained as an investment manager within the meaning of ERISA § 3(38), SHFA provides continuous and ongoing supervision over the designated retirement plan assets. SHFA will actively monitor the designated retirement plan assets and provide ongoing management of the assets. When applicable, SHFA will have discretionary authority to make all decisions to buy, sell or hold securities, cash or other investments for the designated retirement plan assets in our sole discretion without first consulting with the Plan Fiduciaries. We also have the power and authority to carry out these decisions by giving instructions, on your behalf, to brokers and dealers and the qualified custodian(s) of the Plan for our management of the designated retirement plan assets.
- Discretionary Investment Selection Services
SHFA will monitor the investment options of the Plan and add or remove investment options for the Plan without prior consultation with the Plan Fiduciaries. SHFA will have discretionary authority to make and implement all decisions regarding the investment options that are available to Plan Participants.
- Investment Management via Model Portfolios
SHFA will provide discretionary management of Model Portfolios among which the participants may choose to invest as Plan options. Plan Participants will also have the option of investing only in options that do not include Model Portfolios (i.e., the Plan Participants may elect to invest in one or more of the mutual fund options made available in the Plan, and choose not to invest in the Model Portfolios at all).

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

General Fee Information

Fees paid to SHFA are exclusive of all custodial and transaction costs paid to the client’s custodian, brokers or other third party consultants. Please see Item 12 - Brokerage Practices for additional information. Fees paid to SHFA are also separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds, ETFs (exchange traded funds) or other investment pools to their shareholders (generally including a management fee and fund expenses, as described in each fund’s prospectus or offering materials). The client should review all fees charged by funds, brokers, SHFA and others to fully understand the total amount of fees paid by the client for investment and financial-related services.

SHFA may, at its discretion, make exceptions to the following fee arrangements or may negotiate special fee arrangements where SHFA deems it appropriate under the circumstances.

Investment Management Fees

Management fees are generally payable quarterly, in advance. If management begins after the start of a quarter, fees will be prorated accordingly. With client authorization and unless other arrangements are made, fees are normally debited directly from client account(s).

Fees are prorated for cash flows exceeding $5,000 in a particular calendar quarter. When aggregate amounts of at least $5,000 are deposited to or withdrawn from a managed portfolio in between SHFA's regular billing cycles, a pro-rata management fee (or credit) is calculated and added to or deducted from the client's fee for the following quarter. This pro-rata fee is determined by multiplying the value of each cash flow by the annual fee rate schedule then multiplying by the number of days remaining in the billing quarter (from the date of transaction), divided by the number of days in the year.

Either SHFA or the client may terminate their Investment Advisory Agreement at any time, subject to any written notice requirements in the agreement. In the event of termination, any paid but unearned fees will be promptly refunded to the client based on the number of days that the account was managed, and any fees due to SHFA from the client will be invoiced or deducted from the client's account prior to termination.

Wealth Management Fees

Portfolios in our Wealth Management Program are subject to a minimum portfolio value of $750,000. The annual fee, based on a percentage of assets under management, is a blended rate calculated on the following fee schedule:

First $1,000,000	1.00%
Next $4,000,000	0.75%
Balance over $5,000,000	0.50%

Mid-Career Program Fees

The annual fee schedule, calculated on a percentage of assets under management, is 1.00% per year, subject to a minimum portfolio size requirement of $100,000. If applicable, planning services beyond the scope of a Financial Goals Plan will be provided on an hourly basis at a rate of $250 per hour. When a client under the Mid-Career Program reaches the minimum portfolio size required for the Wealth Management Service, they will then qualify for the Wealth Management Program and will be subject to the applicable fee schedule.

Financial Planning and General Consulting Fees

SHFA may furnish investment analysis and advice through consultations on an hourly basis, which would be billed at the rate of $250 per hour. SHFA also consults with clients regarding other more general financial planning topics. This financial planning service is provided on an hourly basis, which would be billed at the rate of $250 per hour.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

SHFA does not have any performance-based fee arrangements. “Side-by-Side Management” refers to a situation in which the same firm manages accounts that are billed based on a percentage of assets under management and at the same time manages other accounts for which fees are assessed on a performance fee basis. Because SHFA has no performance-based fee accounts, it has no side-by-side management.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

SHFA serves individuals, pension and profit-sharing plans, corporations, trusts, estates, professional associations and not-for-profit organizations. SHFA may impose a minimum portfolio value for conventional investment advisory services. Under certain circumstances and in its sole discretion, SHFA may negotiate such minimums.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

In accordance with the Investment Plan, SHFA will primarily invest in mutual funds and ETFs. These investments are generally evaluated and selected based on a variety of factors, including, without limitation, past performance, fee structure, portfolio manager, fund sponsor, overall ratings for safety and returns, and other factors.

SHFA obtains information and data from various sources, such as Morningstar, The Wall Street Journal, Barron's, Forbes, and Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta's Economic Review, as well as annual reports and prospectuses.

Investment Strategies:

SHFA's strategic approach is to invest each portfolio in accordance with the Plan that has been developed specifically for each client. SHFA employs a strategy of utilizing primarily a well-diversified array of no-load mutual funds. Depending on the needs of the client and the performance of the particular investment, SHFA may utilize a long-term purchase strategy (securities held at least a year) or a short-term purchase strategy (securities held less than a year).

Fixed income investments may be used as a strategic investment, as an instrument to fulfill liquidity or income needs in a portfolio, or to add a component of capital preservation. SHFA will generally evaluate and select bond funds or occasionally individual bonds based on a number of factors including, without limitation, rating, yield and duration.

Risk of Loss

While SHFA seeks to diversify clients' investment portfolios across various asset classes consistent with their Investment Plans in an effort to reduce risk of loss, all investment portfolios are subject to risks. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that client investment portfolios will be able to fully meet their investment objectives and goals, or that investments will not lose money.

Below is a description of several of the principal risks that client investment portfolios face.

Management Risks. While SHFA manages client investment portfolios based on SHFA's experience, research and proprietary methods, the value of client investment portfolios will change daily based on the performance of the underlying securities in which they are invested. Accordingly, client investment portfolios are subject to the risk that SHFA allocates client assets to individual securities and/or asset classes that are adversely affected by unanticipated market movements, and the risk that SHFA's specific investment choices could underperform their relevant indexes.

Risks of Investments in Mutual Funds, ETFs and Other Investment Pools. As described above, SHFA will invest client portfolios in mutual funds, ETFs and other investment pools ("pooled investment funds"). Investments in pooled investment funds are generally less risky than investing in individual securities because of their diversified portfolios; however, these investments are still subject to risks associated with the markets in which they invest. In addition, pooled investment funds' success will be related to the skills of their particular managers and their performance in managing their funds. Pooled investment funds are also subject to risks due to regulatory restrictions applicable to registered investment companies under the Investment Company Act of 1940.

Equity Market Risks. SHFA will generally invest portions of client assets directly into equity investments, primarily into pooled investment funds that invest in the stock market. As noted above, while pooled investments have diversified portfolios that may make them less risky than investments in individual securities, funds that invest in stocks and other equity securities are nevertheless subject to the risks of the stock market. These risks include, without limitation, the risks that stock values will decline due to daily fluctuations in the markets, and that stock values will decline over longer periods (e.g., bear markets) due to general market declines in the stock prices for all companies, regardless of any individual security's prospects.

Fixed Income Risks. SHFA may invest portions of client assets directly into fixed income instruments, such as bonds and notes, or may invest in pooled investment funds that invest in bonds and notes. While investing in fixed income instruments, either directly or through pooled investment funds, is generally less volatile than investing in stock (equity) markets, fixed income investments nevertheless are subject to risks. These risks include, without limitation, interest rate risks (risks that changes in interest rates will devalue the investments), credit risks (risks of default by borrowers), or maturity risk (risks that bonds or notes will change value from the time of issuance to maturity).

Foreign Securities Risks. SHFA may invest portions of client assets into pooled investment funds that invest internationally. While foreign investments are important to the diversification of client investment portfolios, they carry risks that may be different from U.S. investments. For example, foreign investments may not be subject to uniform audit, financial reporting or disclosure standards, practices or requirements comparable to those found in the U.S. Foreign investments are also subject to foreign withholding taxes and the risk of adverse changes in investment or exchange control regulations. Finally, foreign investments may involve currency risk, which is the risk that the value of the foreign security will decrease due to changes in the relative value of the U.S. dollar and the security's underlying foreign currency.

Item 9 - Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to a client's evaluation of SHFA or the integrity of SHFA's management. SHFA has no disciplinary events to report.

Item 10 - Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Neither SHFA nor its Management Persons have any other financial industry activities or affiliations to report.

Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics and Personal Trading

SHFA has adopted a Code of Ethics (“the Code”), the full text of which is available to you upon request. SHFA’s Code has several goals. First, the Code is designed to assist SHFA in complying with applicable laws and regulations governing its investment advisory business. Under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, SHFA owes fiduciary duties to its clients. Pursuant to these fiduciary duties, the Code requires persons associated with SHFA (managers, officers and employees) to act with honesty, good faith and fair dealing in working with clients. In addition, the Code prohibits such associated persons from trading or otherwise acting on insider information.

Next, the Code sets forth guidelines for professional standards for SHFA’s associated persons. Under the Code’s Professional Standards, SHFA expects its associated persons to put the interests of its clients first, ahead of personal interests. In this regard, SHFA associated persons are not to take inappropriate advantage of their positions in relation to SHFA clients.

Third, the Code sets forth policies and procedures to monitor and review the personal trading activities of associated persons. From time to time, SHFA’s associated persons may invest in the same securities recommended to clients. Under its Code, SHFA has adopted procedures designed to reduce or eliminate conflicts of interest that this could potentially cause. The Code’s personal trading policies include procedures for limitations on personal securities transactions of associated persons, reporting and review of such trading and pre-clearance of certain types of personal trading activities. These policies are designed to discourage and prohibit personal trading that would disadvantage clients. The Code also provides for disciplinary action as appropriate for violations.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Because client accounts are invested almost exclusively in open-end mutual funds and ETFs, there is little opportunity for a conflict of interest between personal trades by SHFA associated persons and trades in client accounts, even when such accounts invest in the same securities. However, in the event of identified potential trading conflicts of interest, SHFA’s goal is to place client interests first.

Consistent with the foregoing, SHFA maintains policies regarding participation in initial public offerings (“IPOs”) and private placements to comply with applicable laws and avoid conflicts with client transactions. If a SHFA associated person wishes to participate in an IPO or invest in a private placement, he or she must submit a pre-clearance request and obtain the approval of the Chief Compliance Officer.

Finally, if associated persons trade with client accounts (i.e., in a bundled or aggregated trade), and the trade is not filled in its entirety, the associated person’s shares will be removed from the block, and the balance of shares will be allocated among client accounts in accordance with SHFA’s written policy.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

Best Execution and Benefits of Brokerage Selection

When given discretion to select the brokerage firm that will execute orders in client accounts, SHFA seeks “best execution” for client trades, which is a combination of a number of factors, including, without limitation, quality of execution, services provided and commission rates. Therefore, SHFA may use or recommend the use of brokers who do not charge the lowest available commission in the recognition of research and securities transaction services, or quality of execution. Research services received with transactions may include proprietary or third party research (or any combination), and may be used in servicing any or all of SHFA’s clients. Therefore, research services received may not be used for the account for which the particular transaction was effected.

SHFA recommends that clients establish brokerage accounts with Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (“Schwab”), a FINRA registered broker-dealer, member SIPC, as the qualified custodian to maintain custody of clients’ assets. SHFA may also effect trades for client accounts at Schwab, or may in some instances, consistent with SHFA’s duty of best execution and specific agreement with each client, elect to execute trades elsewhere. Although SHFA may recommend that clients establish accounts at Schwab, it is ultimately the client’s decision to custody assets with Schwab. SHFA is independently owned and operated and is not affiliated with Schwab.

Schwab Advisor Services provides SHFA with access to its institutional trading, custody, reporting and related services, which are typically not available to Schwab retail investors. Schwab also makes available various support services. Some of those services help SHFA manage or administer our clients’ accounts while others help SHFA manage and grow our business. These services are not soft dollar arrangements, but are part of the institutional platform offered by Schwab Schwab’s brokerage services, which include the execution of securities transactions, custody, research, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

For SHFA client accounts maintained in its custody, Schwab generally does not charge separately for custody services but is compensated by account holders through commissions and other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed through Schwab or that settle into Schwab accounts. Schwab Advisor Services also makes available to SHFA other products and services that benefit SHFA but may not directly benefit its clients’ accounts. Many of these products and services may be used to service all or some substantial number of SHFA accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab.

Schwab’s products and services that assist SHFA in managing and administering clients’ accounts include software and other technology that (i) provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements); (ii) facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts; (iii) provide pricing and other market data; (iv) facilitate payment of SHFA’s fees from its clients’ accounts; and (v) assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting.

Schwab Advisor Services also offers other services intended to help SHFA manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services may include: (i) technology, compliance, legal and business consulting; (ii) publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and (iii) access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers. Schwab may make available, arrange and/or pay third-party vendors for the types of services rendered to SHFA. Schwab Advisor Services may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to SHFA. Schwab Advisor Services may also provide other benefits such as educational events or occasional business entertainment of SHFA personnel. In evaluating whether to recommend that clients custody their assets at Schwab, SHFA may take into account the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and other arrangements as part of the total mix of factors it considers and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by Schwab, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

Directed Brokerage

Clients may direct SHFA to use a particular broker for custodial or transaction services on behalf of the client's portfolio. In directed brokerage arrangements, the client is responsible for negotiating the commission rates and other fees to be paid to the broker. Accordingly, a client who directs brokerage should consider whether such designation may result in certain costs or disadvantages to the client, either because the client may pay higher commissions or obtain less favorable execution, or the designation limits the investment options available to the client.

The arrangement that SHFA has with Schwab is designed to maximize efficiency and to be cost effective. By directing brokerage arrangements, the client acknowledges that these economies of scale and levels of efficiency are generally compromised when alternative brokers are used. While every effort is made to treat clients fairly over time, the fact that a client chooses to use the brokerage and/or custodial services of these alternative service providers can in fact result in a certain degree of delay in executing trades for their account(s) and otherwise adversely affect management of their account(s).

By directing SHFA to use a specific broker or dealer, clients who are subject to ERISA confirm and agree with SHFA that they have the authority to make the direction, that there are no provisions in any client or plan document which are inconsistent with the direction, that the brokerage and other goods and services provided by the broker or dealer through the brokerage transactions are provided solely to and for the benefit of the client's plan, plan participants and their beneficiaries, that the amount paid for the brokerage and other services have been determined by the client and the plan to be reasonable, that any expenses paid by the broker on behalf of the plan are expenses that the plan would otherwise be obligated to pay, and that the specific broker or dealer is not a party in interest of the client or the plan as defined under applicable ERISA regulations.

Aggregated Trade Policy

SHFA typically directs trading in individual client accounts as and when trades are appropriate based on the client's Investment Plan, without regard to activity in other client accounts. However, from time to time, SHFA may aggregate trades together for multiple client accounts, most often when these accounts are being directed to sell the same securities. If such an aggregated trade is not completely filled, SHFA will allocate shares received (in an aggregated purchase) or sold (in an aggregated sale) across participating accounts on a pro rata or other fair basis; provided, however, that any participating accounts that are owned by SHFA or its officers, directors, or employees will be excluded first.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

Clients who have contracted for ongoing financial planning services receive annual reviews, if they so desire. However, if a client's circumstances dictate, the client's situation will be reviewed on a more frequent basis. Investment management clients' accounts are reviewed for asset allocation rebalancing purposes at least once in a twelve month period, or more frequently if an investment holding is changed, if money flows into or out of an account, if a client's circumstances change, or if external events warrant a more frequent rebalancing. As a part of the overall investment management program, there is a monthly review of the investments used in clients' accounts. Periodic review of the goals and circumstances of investment management clients are conducted as often as necessary. Clients are encouraged to have such reviews on at least an annual basis. There is no set minimum or maximum number of accounts assigned to reviewers. Financial planning and investment management reviews may involve one to two CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ practitioners.

Account custodians are responsible for providing monthly or quarterly account statements which reflect the positions (and current pricing) in each account as well as transactions in each account, including fees paid from an account. Account custodians also provide prompt confirmation of all trading activity, and year-end tax statements, such as 1099 forms. In addition, SHFA provides at least an annual report for each managed portfolio. This written report normally includes a summary of portfolio holdings and performance results. Additional reports are available at the request of the client.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

As noted above, SHFA receives an economic benefit from Schwab in the form of support products and services it makes available to SHFA and other independent investment advisors whose clients maintain accounts at Schwab. These products and services, how they benefit our firm, and the related conflicts of interest are described in Item 12 - Brokerage Practices. The availability of Schwab's products and services to SHFA is based solely on our participation in the programs and not in the provision of any particular investment advice. Neither Schwab nor any other party is paid to refer clients to SHFA.

Item 15 - Custody

Schwab is the custodian of nearly all client accounts at SHFA. From time to time however, clients may select an alternate broker to hold accounts in custody. In any case, it is the custodian's responsibility to provide clients with confirmations of trading activity, tax forms and at least quarterly account statements. Clients are advised to review this information carefully, and to notify SHFA of any questions or concerns. Clients are also asked to promptly notify SHFA if the custodian fails to provide statements on each account held.

From time to time and in accordance with SHFA's agreement with clients, SHFA will provide additional reports. The account balances reflected on these reports should be compared to the balances shown on the brokerage statements to ensure accuracy. At times there may be small differences due to the timing of dividend reporting and pending trades.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

As described above under Item 4 - Advisory Business, SHFA manages portfolios on a discretionary basis. This means that after an Investment Plan is developed for the client's investment portfolio, SHFA will execute that plan without specific consent from the client for each transaction. For discretionary accounts, a Limited Power of Attorney ("LPOA") is executed by the client, giving SHFA the authority to carry out various activities in the account, generally including the following: trade execution; the ability to request checks on behalf of the client; and, the withdrawal of advisory fees directly from the account. SHFA then directs investment of the client's portfolio using its discretionary authority. The client may limit the terms of the LPOA to the extent consistent with the client's investment advisory agreement with SHFA and the requirements of the client's custodian. The discretionary relationship is further described in the agreement between SHFA and the client.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

As a policy and in accordance with SHFA's client agreement, SHFA does not vote proxies related to securities held in client accounts. The custodian of the account will normally provide proxy materials directly to the client. Clients may contact SHFA with questions relating to proxy procedures and proposals; however, SHFA generally does not research particular proxy proposals.

Item 18 - Financial Information

Item 2 - Educational Background and Business Experience

Theodore L. Noble (year of birth 1970) joined SHFA in 2000. He is a co-owner, Vice President, a member of the Board of Directors, and serves as the Chief Compliance Officer of the firm. Ted is a member of the Investment Committee and works with clients to develop and update their financial plans and strategies.

Ted received his CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ certification* in 2007. He earned his BS degree from Berry College and began his professional career working in various areas of accounting and finance.

* The CFP® certification is granted by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (CFP Board). To attain the certification, the candidate must complete the required educational, examination, experience and ethics requirements set forth by CFP Board. Certain designations, such as the CPA, CFA and others may satisfy the education component, and allow a candidate to sit for the CFP® Certification Examination. A comprehensive examination tests the candidate's ability to apply financial planning knowledge to client situations. Qualifying work experience is also required for certification. Qualifying experience includes work in the area of the delivery of the personal financial planning process to clients, the direct support or supervision of others in the personal financial planning process, or teaching all, or any portion, of the personal financial planning process. CFP® professionals must complete 30 hours of continuing education accepted by CFP Board every two years.

Item 3 - Disciplinary Information

Advisers are required to disclose any material facts regarding certain legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of an adviser; however, Ted has no such disciplinary information to report.

Item 4 - Other Business Activities

Ted is not engaged in any other business activities.

Item 5 - Additional Compensation

Ted has no other income or compensation to disclose.

Item 6 - Supervision

Jessica Sherrill is the President of SHFA. Ted Noble is the Vice President and Chief Compliance Officer of SHFA. Both are Portfolio Managers and serve on the investment committee.

Overall investment decisions are made as a team by the investment committee, and portfolio activity based on these decisions will be carried out by these individuals, as assisted by other staff members of the firm.
